Neurodivergent Weekly Planner

Week of:

For a brain whose capacity varies. Plan the week you actually have, not the one a blank planner thinks you should have.

Capacity forecast

Mark one capacity level for each day. No wrong answers. This is a forecast, not a target.

The honesty check

The thing I am not pretending:

The thing that would make this week easier:

MINIMUM VIABLE WEEK

Three essential:

Three optional:

If capacity goes, I can drop:

Momentum & Reflection

Low-stakes protocols for high-momentum days, and reflection for when the week closes.

Momentum protocol

If the window opens, I will not spend it deciding. I will do:

Come-down list

Low-stakes things to do when momentum fades:

End-of-week note

What helped?

What cost more than expected?

What do I want next week to know?

About neurodivers³

neurodivers³ is a home for honest stories, practical tools, and ideas for making everyday life work better with a neurodivergent brain. I make resources for late-diagnosed and self-identified neurodivergent adults who are tired of being told to try harder at systems that were never built for them. This planner is not a clinical tool. It is a practical one. Use what helps; leave what does not.
